

Your Guide to Choosing an Accreditor for Your Nursing Home

HOW DOES  STAND OUT FROM THE CROWD?

Referrals and Recognitions

Helping to go on to become the effective and recognized from state, industry and professional organizations. Joint Commission accreditation is a national metric for patient approval, network participation and accreditation eligibility.

Most Recognized Standards

Developed through input from industry peers and nationally recognized experts, our standards are considered the industry benchmark for quality and safety.

High Touch

For the purpose of accreditation, joint commission goes beyond maintaining our achievement, we have the people and staff ready to assist.

Organization-Wide Approach

By looking at the entire nursing home, we can help to minimize risk areas and increase the overall level of excellence in everything you do.

Portfolio of Programs to Meet Your Distinct Quality Needs

We provide the industry's most comprehensive foundation for the delivery of consistent, quality care with focus on. Our portfolio of programs address the unique needs of multi-facility, corporate leaders, special certification, chain membership, accreditation and detailed certification.

Tracer-Guided Survey Experience

Our unique patient experience objectives and in-depth process an individualized inspection through organization, editing paper compliance while getting a real-time analysis of organization's strengths and challenges.

Employed Surveyor Team

The Joint Commission's surveyors are experienced. Each surveyor sees an average of 30 nursing home facilities, allowing them to bring more experienced leading practices to you.

What Our Customers Say

Review of Customer Loyalty Survey from CEO of Joint Commission-accredited nursing home and nursing care facilities.